Dear friends,

in this terrible hour in which your country is exposed to brutal aggression, we send you messages of support and encouragement on behalf of 330. Croatian municipalities who are anxiously following these dark moments in which Ukraine found itself. There are no words in which our grief can be summed up, due to the tragic events that Ukraine is currently experiencing. Unfortunately, Croatia itself went through aggression in the first half of the 1990s, and we deeply sympathize with the friendly Ukrainian people.

We remember happy moments when we were your guests at the end of 2019 in Kiev, and we believe that we will all see each other again in some happier and more better circumstances, in free Ukraine which will be completely liberated from brutal aggression. We wish you and your families all the luck in overcoming this dark times, and we are in prayer with you.

Your Croatian friends,
